

Crane and Derrick Standards 13 NCAC 07F .0900

The North Carolina Department of Labor is pleased to announce this training opportunity for North Carolina employers and employees. This presentation is designed to help North Carolina employers/employees understand the requirements of the new, North Carolina State Specific Crane and Derricks Standard. Because this is offered free of charge and presented by OSH Division class size will be limited.

Please note additional dates/locations may be added in the future. Please check back for updates.

Please Note: This presentation is being offered through the NC OSH Division Speaker's Bureau. Because of the large numbers of attendees, individual certificates will not be available. One roster will be generated for each event for use by the Education, Training and Technical Assistance Bureau and the Small Business Center. Individual documentation for attendance at this event will be the responsibility of each individual employer. We have provided an agenda with this announcement for your use for documentation purposes.
